

In 1947, Bertolt Brecht wrote the famous poem "The Anachronistic March, or Freedom and Democracy". When in 1990 the GDR was annexed, a scenic impersonation, a street theater visualizing this poem went from Bonn (then capital of the FRG) to Berlin (then capital of the GDR, new capital of Germany). The poem shows how German imperialism is bringing freedom to the world - its very own freedom!

